If receiving contractors at the marinas make sure the admins are informed and that these contractors have professional risks insurance (ARL..not expensive) .

1. Checking in – What to do first

Cartagena's port captain does not deal with any yacht captain directly and will insist on the use of an agent. You will need to talk to your agent any time you would like to move your vessel, be it for pleasure (going to the Rosario Islands) or work (going to the yards).

Other agency choices are available. Those mentioned have been recommended by prior cruising visitors. By all means contact other Maritime Agencies but seek clarification of all charges and services offered. Current agency charges do seem high but much relates to visit and certification charges from Immigration, Health authority, and the Port Captain office.

On arrival you will be issued with a 90 day tourist visa. This can be extended to a maximum stay of 6 months (actually 180 days) per calendar year. Your boat can stay for a year. Normally this can be extended for at least 6 months additionally.

For those planning a 10 day (or less) stop-over the agency fees should be significantly less. A 'Certificado de Permanencia' (Cruising Permit) and associated costs are not usually required in these cases.

If arriving from another Colombian port district (ie. Sta Marta) where you had completed your national customs and extended stay documentation, a local maritime agent will still be needed for the port entry procedure. And also to obtain your departing zarpe (sailing orders) and passport exit stamps when needed.

NOTE: Pet owners should also be aware that there are entry requirements applicable to pets : ask your agent for clarification. There may be additional charges for vessels over a particular displacement tonnage or length. Clarify with your agent.

Note: all 7 digit telephone numbers (beginning with #6) require a prefix of 605 if calling from a local cellphone

TEMPORARY IMPORTATION FOR YOUR VESSEL

On arrival, if you plan (or contemplate) a stay of more than a week your agent will need to apply for a one-year Temporary Importation Permit issued by customs together with a Permanent stay certificate/Cruising Permit (Certificado de Permanencia).

A vessel may be asked to leave if the application is not completed on time. This 1 year temporary importation permit can be extended for a further year in most cases.

PORT CAPTAIN'S OFFICE BCH Building, 5th floor (Multi-story office building facing Parque Centenario) La Matuna, Av. Daniel Lemaitre, CENTRO.

Immigration

Upon clearing with immigration you will normally be issued a 90-day tourists' visa. This can subsequently be extended for a further 90 days for a total of 180 days (not necessarily 6 months) per 12-month period. Remember the clock still runs if you leave Colombia to return after a period away. The only advantage is that the time away will be added to the original visa expiration date.

If you are planning to be here for longer than 90 days, remember to renew your visa before the 90 days runs out. This can now be processed on line:

<https://theunconventionalroute.com/extend-colombia-tourist-visa/>

Before going to Immigration for your visa renewal at the end of your initial 90 days (note: not 3 months), stop at a nearby bank to pay the fee.

Banco de Bogota, Caribe Plaza (Mall) or Bancafe Pedro de Heredia, Sector Lo Amador, # 19-204. Payment is made to Account No. 14299001-9, Codigo 103. Lines/queues in the bank can be long so plan on going early. ("Prorrogar Turismo" = "to renew a visa") The counter at the entrance has the deposit forms and a sample of how they should be completed. (If you have any doubts contact your 'Agencia Maritima')

D.A.S. (Immigration Office), Pie de la Popa, Sector Lo Amador Tel: 656-2524 (prefix 605 if calling from a cellphone). There are many PUBLIC holidays in Colombia, so it's a good idea to call first to make sure they are open. Forms are in Spanish, so take a dictionary if necessary. Your 'Agencia Maritima' will be happy to assist with any immigration issues.

2. Club Nautico Marina

Welcome to our family-run marina.

Some do's and don'ts:

If you don't want to lose your dinghy while at anchor never leave it in the water at night— raise it up and secure the outboard with a chain to the mother ship (also remove the fuel tank).

The Coast Guard patrols the anchorage but don't take them for granted. You can take effective measures to protect your property. Club Nautico occasionally has its own launch to assist with night patrols. Coast Guard listens to VHF 16/14 . also cell 323 4866106 (control tower)

Bio Security measures still remain applicable in several places including shopping malls, banks and some restaurants: face masks may remain a requirement so at least have one available just in case.

PLEASE dress with consideration for the conservative residential barrio where we are located. We have to respect our neighbours.

PLEASE keep your pets on a leash and clean up if they should poop anywhere in the marina. Throughout Cartagena pet owners are required to clean up.

PLEASE BE CAREFUL of unscrupulous persons trying to engage you in dubious activities, particularly prostitution. Child prostitution is totally prohibited and strong action will be taken against any involved. Help Colombia fight this serious problem.

DO NOT wear expensive jewelry while walking around town.

DO NOT deal with money-changers on the street.

DO NOT try to bring people from the street to work on your boat. They will not be permitted to enter . Many of the workers (not all) recommended in this guide can access the marina at no additional cost. They have a history providing honest help and assisting the marina when asked. Anybody contracted to work (whatever the color of their collar) at the marina will need professional risks insurance (ARL) before being allowed to enter. All work planned must be previously approved by the marina office (some repair work can only be undertaken within a dedicated work yard with the proper approvals). Contractors must leave the marina no later than 18.00 weekdays and Saturdays. Sundays and public holidays contractors may not be allowed to enter the marina.

DO NOT undertake major repair work while on the dock. Other than routine maintenance undertaken by the registered crew onboard all work planned must be approved by the marina office before it can be undertaken. No welding (except under the strictest of conditions), no grinding/sanding of fiberglass, no painting (other than varnishing). The boat yards have the necessary facilities, permits and contingency plans for such work to be undertaken. DO NOT employ minors (less than 18 years old) for any reason. It is illegal.

BERTHING (Club de Pesca, Club Nautico Marina, Manzanillo Marina Club)

The Port Captain's office insists the marinas carry copies of all required paperwork. Before berthing (or immediately afterwards) you should provide copies of the following documents:

Boat registration, Captain's passport (principal page), Acta de Visita (initial arrival acknowledgement from Port Captain's office), Temporary Importation Permit (customs document provided through your agent) and the Certificado de Permanencia (akin to a Cruising Permit).

The latter 2 documents can take up to 8 days to obtain. In most cases your agent can obtain a special permit to allow your boat to come on the dock (or get hauled out) pending some of the needed documentation. New visiting arrivals are welcome to berth here pending completion of the necessary documentation.

LEAVING YOUR BOAT:

If leaving your boat for an extended period please set up a custodial arrangement with someone the marina can trust. A minimum requirement is that he/she should be capable of attaching a line to an underwater mooring (free diving). We will be happy to recommend suitable caretakers. If leaving the country get a letter from your maritime agent declaring that your vessel is here to avoid showing

Note: all 7 digit telephone numbers (beginning with #6) require a prefix of 605 if calling from a local cellphone

a return ticket on return (airlines can be pedantic so still might need to purchase a refundable return ticket)

GENERAL NOTES:

We do provide security in keeping with our desire to maintain a degree of informality. However, the 'Club' (Club Nautico Cartagena Ltda) will not be held responsible for you personally, nor your crew/guests. Neither will the Club be responsible for your property during your stay here. At all times the Captain/Owner remains responsible for all matters concerning his/her vessel and property.

TYING UP:

We are happy to help but finally the responsibility remains with the vessel's captain. Electricity is either AC 110 or AC 220 (at 60 HZ). Please check voltage and polarity with the assistance of our electrician before utilizing sensitive electrical equipment. ALSO, low voltage (and voltage spikes) can occasionally occur: take measures to protect against this. The Club will not be responsible for consequential damages resulting from power surges (which may last just milliseconds) and voltage fluctuation.

3. Money

DO NOT USE MONEY CHANGERS ON THE STREETS! Such operations are illegal and you will likely be cheated.

The monetary unit in Colombia is the peso. At the time of this writing, the official exchange rate is aprox 4000 pesos to $1 U.S. Numerous banks and ATMs (cajeros), are conveniently located throughout the city. There are good ATM machines nearby (eg. Just inside the local Carulla supermarket and the nearby Banco Colombia).

Most ATMs give only 600,000 pesos per withdrawal. The ATM at Citibank in Centro near the Exito supermarket allows withdrawals of up to 2,000,000 pesos as a single transaction.

Colombian banks do not accept telegraphic transfers unless you have a checking account with them. You can however pay marina bills through bank transfers.

If you really need US Dollars, Western Union can help: at the basement floor of the Caribe Plaza mall, but at a hefty fee.

A really good and dependable money changer (casa de Cambio) is Pedro and Jackie Osorio (Jackie used to run the marina bar) cel 301 6788959 or 3172588578. Jackie used to run the bar at Club Nautico (pre 2011) so knows and appreciates cruisers (Pedro too!)

Security note:

Please be careful taking large sums out of banks. Bancolombia (Bocagrande branch) and Banco Occidente (Centro near the Clock Tower) are good choices due to their location. Do not use the banks in outlying shopping malls for large withdrawals.

Note: all 7 digit telephone numbers (beginning with #6) require a prefix of 605 if calling from a local cellphone

4. Transportation

Also Taxi ROY (recommended by United Cruisers WA net) +57 301 5052735 (WA)

Taxi drivers in Cartagena are for the most part friendly and honest, but check on the fare before you take off. The official rate from Manga to Centro is 8000 pesos, 10000 at night. Manga to Bocagrande, 13100 pesos. Centro to Bocagrande, 8000 pesos. Taxi to or from the airport is approx 20,500 pesos Centro to the Northern main Bus terminal 36,500 pesos.

An average hourly rate if you'd like your cab to wait while you do your errands is 40,000 pesos.

Transcaribe: (modern mass transport bus system) you will need to purchase a bus pass in advance tarjeta transcaribe. (can be obtained at principal stations) Each journey will take aprox 2800 pesos from your card balance.

You will need to show your ID to obtain the bus pass (a copy of your passport should be sufficient).

5. Provisioning

If you're an early riser, you will hear the neighborhood of Manga come to life with the distinctive cries of the local street vendors hawking their wares—"Mango! Mandarina! Aguacate! Piña!" Don't hesitate to buy from them! You might also pick up a "tinto" from one of the boys toting the thermoses. Tinto is a tiny but stout cup of sweetened coffee for a mere 500 pesos.) Good quality produce, meats and poultry are available from the fine grocery stores throughout the city. Pork and beef are especially good here. Treat yourself to "Lomo fino" tenderloin, either "cerdo" (pork) or "res" (beef). There is not much variety in canned goods. Wines and liquors tend to be expensive in the grocery stores. Budget wine starts at about $5.50usd a bottle

Carulla: Manga, 2 minutes walk from Club Nautico. Helpful packers can often help by bringing your shopping cart to Club Nautico.

Bocagrande, Calle 14 and Av. San Martin. |

Manga, "Carulla Express" 1 ½ blocks east of Club de Pesca.

CARIBE PLAZA: Modern large mall 15 mins walk from the marina. Well organized taxi rank in parking area to get your goodies back.

JUMBO: Large Chaín store similar to Walmart. Across the small bridge between Manga and Pie de la Popa, then right 100 yards. Caribe Plaza Mall (also Home Center).

Exito Large combination grocery / department store similar to Target in the states or Gigante in Mexico. ServiBanca ATM allows 400,000 peso withdrawal.

□ Centro, Sector San Diego near India Catalina statue by city wall. |

Bazurto □ | (Mercado Bazurto) - Cartagena city market. A huge market that sells almost anything. Inexpensive vegetables. Humble as it gets. For the adventurous! If you are looking for good used 5 gallon water containers they can be obtained for about $2.50 usd.

BOOZE

The best values to be had for purchasing alcohol in Cartagena are the import stores located in “Contraband Alley” or “Centro Comercial Turistico”, that runs between Calle Larga and Av. Arsenal in Getsemani near the Convention Center. Prices are substantially less than in the grocery stores. You will also find good prices on various other imported food items not otherwise available.

6. Propane

Take your bottles to the Porter at the entrance gate to Club Nautico. He will be able to arrange the fill Monday to Friday. Check for rates. The fill station is 25 mins taxi ride out of town. Small European Butane bottles will be filled with propane and may be returned only 75 % full. This is for safety reasons as propane liquifies at a higher pressure than Butane. Also, before filling these small European bottles check prices with the supplier (Club Nautico is simply facilitating the transaction for marina users).

7. Fuel (Diesel and Gasoline)

Note: about 10% ethanol is used is diesel (locally referred to as ACPM. Aceite combustibile para motores): BIO diesel is fine for most engines manufactured in the last 25 years that have been provided with suitably resistant fuel lines and seals. Ethanol is hygroscopic so in this humid climate fuel is better used than stored. Monitor your water separators. Have plenty of filters available if your vessel has been stored for any period. Better to filter fuel and clean tanks prior to departure (fuel polishing).

8 . General Hands

For boat cleaning, varnishing, head overhaul, running errands, piloting, underwater work, obtaining parts and general repairs, there are quite a number of workers. Most of them are at Club Nautico on the docks, ready, willing and able!

While these men are experienced and hardworking, it is important that you oversee the job to insure the job is completed to your satisfaction.

The going rate for general unskilled boat work is 90 -150 mil pesos per day. (US$28 - 26-38) Negotiate the price before the job is started. Underwater work (cleaning hull bottoms) can be significantly higher (average $40US for a bottom clean lasting approx 1.5 hours).

Please note that you may not bring in outside workers unless they have received prior approval by Club Nautico (the same applies to the Club de Pesca). It is more likely that permission will be granted for skilled rather than unskilled assistance. All outside workers, if accepted, must have ARL coverage (professional risks insurance).

Alberto Vasques, Experienced seaman. Knowledgeable. Solid and trustworthy. Speaks some English. Great for underwater work, and hard deck work. Able dinghy repairs. Cel. 310 6917073

Jose Cana. Underwater hull cleaning, Varnishing specialist. Tidy. Dependable and knowledgeable.

Eduardo Parra. General. Dependable. Has access to a dinghy so can often provide a taxi assist to get you or your crew to your anchored vessel. Cel 301 4297672

Albornoz, via Mamonal,

Cel/WA +57 316 4709526 Waidelyn gerenciadeproyectos@ferroalquimar.com

A well-organized and ordered yard with selected contractors. Nice clean restaurant catering to guests and workers alike. Comfortable internet TV room-. Decent bathrooms. Big 300 ton travel lift with bay that can receive vessels to 35 feet beam and 11 ft deep. Certainly worth discussing your project ideas with them. If you have a preferred contractor you will need to check whether they can access the yard. Recent feedback suggests that you should not depend solely on the yard to provide contractor oversight. Also be clear about the work to ensure you can step in and work yourself should you feel dissatisfied with the contractors provided. You could be billed for the work you do! Not atypical of commercial yard policy. Recent cruiser comments suggest they are good at coppercoat or copper epoxy bottom application.

New to the scene 2023. A major investment with a 120 ton travellift but wide to accommodate catamarans of up to 34 foot beam. The approach to the marina needs dredging as they can only receive boats with 7 ft draft or less but there are plans to increase this shortly. Good clean modern yard with large covered building available for paint and other projects. At the moment they do not permit liveboards but will allow you to work on your own vessels. Luis, the manager, has considerable experience with a competing yard before joining Portobello. Talk to him!

Gelcoat, Fibreglass, Woodwork, and Mechanical work can all be reliably contracted through the marina. Comfortable wash, lounge area. Wifi. Recently extended docks for in water storage (well protected).

(Please note that repainting work involving fibreglass/gelcoat grinding/sanding and gelcoat/ polyurethane finishing should be undertaken in the yards, not the marinas)

PAINTERS:

For polyurethane & gelcoat hull refinishing there are good choices but quality control vigilance is important. Keep a close eye on your project and an excellent job should be your reward at about 25 - 30 % US prices. These men can do excellent finishing work (but may indulge in short cuts so be warned).

Please draw up a written agreement before starting any major project. Be wary of the lowest quotation since when a project starts it may be difficult to maintain the original agreement. Also, contractors employed at Ferroalquimar may be your responsibility, not the yard's. Unless contracting through the yard itself don't expect them to bail you out if things go wrong. Most of the teams need supervising on a 2 times per week basis (making sure commitments are kept).

Note: Most of the yards now insist on being the primary contractor so it may be advisable to negotiate directly with the yard (before agreeing to take your boat there) rather than those actually doing the work.

Janer Estrada WhatsApp +57 300 4425427 . General worker contractor

37. Rigging

There is no (as yet) professional rigging shop in Cartagena (maybe things are changing—see below). The people mentioned below are willing assistants and can offer limited recommendations. We would advise that all cruisers check their rigging themselves, possibly with advice from other cruisers with greater experience.

Alexander Jory WhatsApp + 57 321 5470094 . Complimented highly by owner of lagoon 42 Catamaran who compared him to some of the best he had encountered in the USA. This was for rig tuning. Also recommended for rigging repairs (including roller furling gear).

GianLuigi WhatsApp +57 300 3421267 recommended by several local sailors. Italian spoken. Very knowledgeable.

Sailing Services also has a branch in Connecticut (USA) that is sometimes preferred. Used by Defender marine. 316 stainless steel rigging wire supplied on 2 recent occasions (2021) tarnished over a few months so it is important to verify the source of the rigging wire beforehand.

43. Importing into Colombia

Yacht in transit status is not always recognised

Always check with your maritime agent before sending anything of value through the express carriers (primarily Fedex and DHL).

Be very careful about importing items like sails. Imported textiles are seen as competing with local manufacture and subject to higher import charges. In this case we suggest you also talk to specialized forwarding agents based in Florida before deciding to use an express service such as Fedex or DHL.

Recommended forwarding agents include Javier Hoyos (see below) or Costa Courier (based in Miami but with no English spoken!!) who can arrange delivery and clearance with a minimum of fuss at very competitive rates.

For rigging we recommend Sailing Services in Miami or Connecticut (we had a recent very good experience with them: Javier arranging deliver though his company in Miami).

FREIGHT FORWARDER SERVICES BASED IN MIAMI (effective economical delivery solution)

Rates vary between 3.00 usd per lb and 7.00us per lb delivered (no extras). Occasional limits of weight and value: check beforehand.

Javier Hoyos, WhatsApp +57 315 731 9614

E-mail: roundservice@gmail.com Javier has made importing into Cartagena comparable to services available in Panama.. Contact to receive mail and to import goods for yachts in transit. He speaks good English. Tell him exactly what you're planning to import (including dimensions) and whether insurance is required. Follow his instructions to the letter.

Costa Courier: Tel: /WhatsApp +1 (786) 488 8637 similar to Javier (above) but communications through their Miami office (no English spoken!). Economical freight forwarder option recommended by Kenny (SV MAKAI). Roughly 3.50 usd per lb delivered (a min charge is applicable)

Dima Cargo: Tel +1 (305) 7763058 (WA) "Mike Quintero from DIMA cargo can get things to you from the US". Competitive! www.dima-cargo.com

Fedex is your clear choice for urgent deliveries, getting credit cards,

For those staying long term in Cartagena the FLYBOX service operated through the national airline Avianca may be a good choice > <https://www.flybox.co/>

43A. LEGAL

Owen Taylor: +57 322 78433219

A Bogota based lawyer with a great reputation for assisting with immigration issues. (recommended SV Makai, SV Three Ships)

44. Medical

A full range of medical facilities are available in Cartagena. Dental work is excellent value with the most up-to-date equipment; well trained dentists, many from the University of Cartagena with its national reputation as a center of excellence. Cosmetic surgery and skin cancer treatment are good, as is Lasik eye surgery, which corrects near and farsighted vision in an operation barely lasting 10 minutes; burning a surprisingly small hole in your pocket!

Pharmacies are everywhere and you will find most of your prescription needs available and reasonably priced. Prices vary considerably among the pharmacies, and even among branches of the same pharmacy. It pays to shop around. Many drugs that are prescription only in other countries can be purchased over-the-counter in Colombia. Most pharmacies have reference books to find a generic equivalent of name-brand drugs.

HOSPITALS & EMERGENCY

Before they will accept a patient all hospitals require identification and some payment guarantee.

Basic observation and minor injury treatment (including precautionary X-Rays) at a mid-range clinic (Clinica Ami below) will cost roughly $300US per day. In the case of Clinica Ami, a family member or friend must stay with the patient (and assist doctors and nurses) until observation period is concluded.

Costs for Hospital Bocagrande will be higher; intensive care treatment can be multiple times higher! If patients (or their guardians) cannot show adequate financial means there is the risk of summary transfer to a poorly equipped public hospital. Keep your international insurance up to date or affiliate yourself with a local insurance provider (or reserve adequate funds to self-insure).

A Brief History of Cartagena, by Eduardo Lemaitre. The green copy is in English and available from El Palacio del Inquisicion in Plaza Bolivar. An excellent, readable short history of the city from its discovery through to colonization with its gold, pirates, independence, and days of the republic.

TOUR GUIDES

Many knowledgeable tour guides eagerly await your business. As “personality” factors into the success of a trip, be it a half-day city tour, eco tour, or emerald-buying spree. We feel it’s best to advise you to ask others who “have done it”, who they used and how they fared. Be sure you clearly state your desires—what you have in mind. Agree a price before going.

SOME HIGHLIGHTS

You can spend weeks exploring this fascinating city. While every church is worth exploring, make a point of visiting San Pedro Claver in Plaza de San Pedro Claver, and the Cathedral in Plaza Bolivar. Here are some of the historical highlights that should not be missed:

Museo Naval: Located in Plaza Santa Teresa, just behind Iglesia San Pedro Claver. Iris is an excellent English-speaking tour guide and can explain the many interesting displays. He is also available to give a walking history tour of the center.

Museo de Oro: Plaza Bolivar. Free admission. With more than just gold, the museum has interesting models of Indian communities and an historic overview of the Zenu society and their amazing flood control, gold and weaving. You can ask for an English overview of each of the 3 exhibit rooms. Closed Sundays and Mondays.

Palacio de la Inquisición: Plaza Bolivar. Fascinating and gruesome.

Castillo San Felipe: The largest fort in the city, this makes for a great early morning walk. Beautiful view of the city. Seeing this on a “cruise ship day” should allow you to tag along and have a guided tour! Bring a flashlight—it’s riddled with tunnels!

Museo de Arte Moderno: Plaza de San Pedro de Claver. Beautiful gift shop next door featuring fine quality Colombian craftwork.

Teatro Heredia: Check for special cultural events in a classical setting.

Centro de Convenciones: Modern event center.

El Convento de la Popa: For its history and panoramic view of the city, La Popa is a must! A taxi can take you up; the drive is breathtaking! Do not walk up or down from here – the barrio at the bottom of the hill is said to be very dangerous!

Casa del Marqués de Valdehoyos, Calle de la Factoria. Colonial aristocrats’ house.

54. Exercise Classes

There are a surprising number of opportunities to join an exercise class within walking distance to your marina! Call for times as they may change.

Walk the Wall! If you’re an early riser you can make the perimeter of the entire old city before it gets too hot! Later in the day, wait until about 4pm. The walk from Manga around the wall and back is approximately 4 miles. Takes about 1hr.30 mins. Just the wall alone takes 50 mins. Very nice with all the birdlife and views (SY Stardust 2019).

56. Night Life

In Cartagena, the night is young at 11PM (after the current curfew hour of 10 PM), so if you partake of ‘the night life’, plan on staying up late! (And if you do, use good judgment and take a taxi back to the marina.) Bocagrande is the place to be for tourists’ bars and discos. In Centro, the old city, you will find many off-beat places that cater to the large student population and the ‘less packaged’ visitors!

Leon de Bavaria. Calle Arsenal, Getsemani. A popular happy hour meeting point for cruisers every Thursday

Baluarte de San Francisco Centro, Plaza Santa Teresa with a beaArt Gallery : Agua de Lluvia: Calle del Santisimo No. 8-19. Area surrounding the Trinidad church in Getsemani: popular for bars, classy restaurants, and people watching.

57. Restaurants

Where to begin? With such a variety of restaurants in Cartagena—Chinese, French, Italian, Spanish, Middle Eastern and more, deciding to eat out poses a problem--“Which restaurant tonight?” Most restaurants here charge a 8% tax and the standard tip (“propina”) is 10%. Many restaurants add the propina onto the bill – it’s your responsibility to check. Like other Latin American countries, it is necessary to ask for ‘la cuenta’, the bill, in order for it to be brought to your table when you have finished your meal. Don’t plan on eating dinner much before 7PM as many restaurants don’t even open till then or later, and you’ll likely be the only occupied table at that time!

Small restaurants throughout town advertise ‘comida corriente’. This is typical Colombian fare, usually a complete meal including soup, rice, patacones (fried plantain) and meat, chicken or fish, for a very reasonable price-- $3-4 US. Great for lunches! Following is a small sample of some favorites among cruisers and locals. Each ‘$’ symbol represents approximately $10 US per dinner. “Buen provecho!” (And yes, you can drink the local water: it’s quite good & cheaper than the small bottles available.)

A small sample!

www.narcobollo.com/narcobollo

$ Chiladas: Burritas and Nachos. A great place to grab a bite in the day or evening. Infront of Club Nautico
Or: Av Venezuela, Cl. 35 #8b-05, (Very close to the clock tower and Parque Centenario) Cel: 300 8198498

$ Mi Dulce Café: Bocagrande, Calle 6-A, Carrera 6 #3-2. Tel: 665 2827 Sylvia. Good food.

Also a training center for women in distress. A day care for worker’ children is behind the restaurant.

$ Crepes and Waffles. Two locations: Bocagrande, Calle 3 No. 4–76 and Caribe Plaza Mall. If you’re in the mood for a gourmet ice cream sundae, this is the place. But there’s also a huge selection of main course crepes, pitas, dessert crepes, blintzes, entrée salads. Cruisers’ favorite and extremely reasonable.

Note: all 7 digit telephone numbers (beginning with #6) require a prefix of 605 if calling from a local cellphone

58. Shopping

There are simply too many fine stores to list in depth, and discovering them on your own is part of the fun. Following are some shops that have been recommended more than once by cruisers. Buyer beware!

LOCAL ARTS & CRAFTS

Artesanias Tradicionales Colombianas(ARTC): Centro, Calle Sta. Teresa, Casa Mapfre, Local 3 Tel: 6662541 Cel: 300 312 8101 e-mail marypz_2@latinmail.com. Mola bags, molas, cushion making etc (Mary).

Las Bovedas: Centro, in the wall at the waterfront. A huge “mall of stalls”, somewhat repetitive but there are some fine things to be had. Avoid cruise ship days. Store #13, El Cacique, is owned by Luis Restrepo, a very nice, helpful man who speaks very good English.

Art Gallery : Agua de Lluvia: Calle del Santisimo No. 8-19. Excellent & unusual high quality crafts, fabrics, pottery, woodwork.

CIGARS

CLOTHING

The street between the Charleston Hotel and Plaza Santo Domingo has a variety of fine women’s boutiques. You will find good clothing in all price ranges throughout the city.

COFFEE

Coffee Boutique Centro, Calle Estanco del Aguardiente (first left past the University of Cartagena heading NW). Something new and worth a try (friend of Sr. Jesus Hoyos, Club N's photographer).

A bonus, next door is a Brian Zola ice cream shop. Coffee And... Bocagrande, Pierino Gallo Shopping Center, Upstairs. Very special coffee even for Colombia!

Remember, you’re in Colombia! Good coffee is not hard to find! And by the way, there really IS a Juan Valdez

59. Emeralds

You won't get far walking down the streets in Old Town without being approached by someone who has, by far, without question, the absolutely very best buy on emeralds! AND, he'll probably promise you a "special price today!" The fact is, emeralds are a great buy in Cartagena. But you need to do some homework. Don't rush, and enjoy the shopping experience.

Mr. Emerald: Tel:(035 prefix if using cell phone) 665-6781. Cel: 300 817 0606. E-mail: Leland@MisterEmerald.com. 61. Out-of-town

If you are planning to travel within Colombia, it is important to keep in mind that while security has greatly improved throughout much of the country, some journeys by road continue to present a risk! It may be safer to fly, and/or make arrangements with a tour operator!!!

Islas de Rosarios: If you don't want to sail to these beautiful islands yourself, boats are available for hire from the fishing dock just outside the clock tower, for day trips. Also at Club Nautico in Manga (ask someone at the entry gate). A popular stop in Rosario is the Oceanarium (<https://oceanario.co/>). There are several full service chalet facilities available to enjoy a 'crystal water' break.

The Santa Clara Hotel (5 star) owns Hotel San Pedro de Majagua-- beach bungalows. Make travel arrangements and reservations at the Santa Clara Hotel in the city.

Also check out Isla Kalua (near the Oceanario) for a special treat. Cel: 311 635 2117. E-mail kaluaisland@yahoo.com . Another great place for a weekend relax is the Island Cabaña hotel complex on Isla Pirata (the Eastern end of the Island group).

Feedback from cruisers is both welcome and needed to keep information current. Provide your input to John at Club Nautico, and help others in your wake enjoy their stay. Thank you!

The Port Captain has expressed concern that many sailboats are anchoring outside the designated anchorage area. Try to anchor within these designated anchorage zones or as close as possible to them.

Be careful to allow frigates/cruise liners (plus tugs) maneuvering room to moor alongside the tourist dock . Tugs assisting them may not even notice your presence!
